

Department of Arabic Programme Outcomes

Department of Arabic offers Arabic as a second language at graduate level and following are the Course Outcomes:

The Arabic course designed to help the students in getting job in various fields as we know the Arabic is the 5th most frequently spoken native diction in the world. It is majorly used by Muslims worldwide, with over 200 million people in various Arab countries, and well recognized in different regions of Africa as well. It was included as the 6th official form of speech in the United Nations because of its widespread usage all over the globe. Besides, it is also the representative tongue in the Arab League, the Organization of Islamic Conference (OIC), and the African Union.

With the rise of globalization, Arabic is an increasingly useful language on the job market. Knowing Arabic opens opportunities in business, government, nonprofit, education and beyond. In spite of its prevalence, many countries report a shortage of Arabic speakers. In fact, knowledge of Arabic is such a desirable skill that many governments and universities will pay you to study it! Scholarship opportunities – especially for studying abroad – are plentiful, and universities are eagerly recruiting students who pursue such opportunities.

Due to high emergence of Western attention towards Middle East, whether it is for resolving peace issues between some countries or the wild spread of Multinational companies in such states, the basic understanding of Arabic are the very first thing to do so as to interact with locals productively. As, the West is facing acute scarcity of people who are proficient in Arabic, be it in Journalism, Foreign Affairs, and other businesses etc. there is a great opportunity for people to learn this lingo and make their careers count in various fields.

Many Multinational organizations have recently moved to Middle East, like in United Arab Emirates and Saudi Arabia. They regularly search for foreign competent workers who could contribute to their business operations. There is also a dearth of professionals among the locals of such countries, which is why they look for people from other countries. So, it is opens great prospects for those interested in moving to Arab world for living to speak, write, read and understand Arabic language.

Course outcomes

Students graduating with a foreign language (Arabic) from the Department of Arabic will be able to: Communicate effectively in the Arabic language in a variety of speaking situations.

Express themselves competently in a variety of oral situations.

Read and comprehend texts of an intermediate high level in both traditional and simplified characters.

Understand most native speakers when they speak clearly on familiar topics.

Communicate effectively in the Arabic language via proficient, articulate, and well-organized writing.

Students will demonstrate knowledge and understanding of other cultures and their products.

They will be able to recognize and describe the historical, social, economic, and political forces that shape society in the target culture;